OUACHITA

The strength of grace, the love of right
Have built you strong and true.
The power to train and strengthen youth
Our God has given you.

We proudly, proudly sing of thee
Our Alma Mater dear;
We praise thy name, O Ouachita,
In voices loud and clear.

We laud thy name, dear Ouachita,
Whose honor fading never
Shall stand in glory's shining light
And guide our lives forever.

FOREWORD

Because 1949 marks Ouachita's fifty-fifth anniversary—its emerald year—the Roarer Staff has endeavored to reflect this year's events at our Alma Mater and also to record something of the past and present of the School, the Parish, and the River—all endeared to us by the name Ouachita.

The result we submit proudly, hoping that any short-comings may be regarded leniently, since we have been prompted in our undertaking by the lofty purpose of depicting features of the three beloved Ouachitas, and have labored unceasingly in accomplishing our aim.

May the Roarer of 1949 be such that in years to come it will touch gently and delightfully the tender chords of Memory.

Don Juan Filhiol, Founder of Monroe

Don Juan Filhiol, a Frenchman, about 1782 was appointed commandant of the Ouachita District by Don Estevan Miro, Spanish provisional governor of Louisiana. In 1785 he descended the Ouachita River from Camden, Arkansas, to what was then called Prairie des Canots, subsequently renamed the Ouachita Post. Upon a petition of the inhabitants in 1790, Fort Miro was built. Following the Louisiana Purchase in 1803, Lieutenant Joseph Bomar took possession of the Ouachita District for the United States. In honor of the James Monroe, first steamboat to ascend the Ouachita, the settlement in 1819 assumed the name Monroe.

Miro, Filhiol, Ludwig, and Linderman, streets in Monroe and West Monroe, reveal historic association with the founder.

Picking Cotton on a Ouachita Plantation

South Monroe boasts two places of special historic interest—Lovers' Lane and Layton Place.

Lovers' Lane was originally an avenue of catalpa trees running through the lower Pargoud Plantation, the property of Hypolite and Jean Francois Pargoud.

Layton Place is associated hristorically with Judge Henry Bry, responsible for the naming of Monroe, When John J. Audubon was collecting materials for his Birds of America, he tramped the forest swamps of North Louisiana, sojourned for months at the Bry home, and left there many of his original drawings.

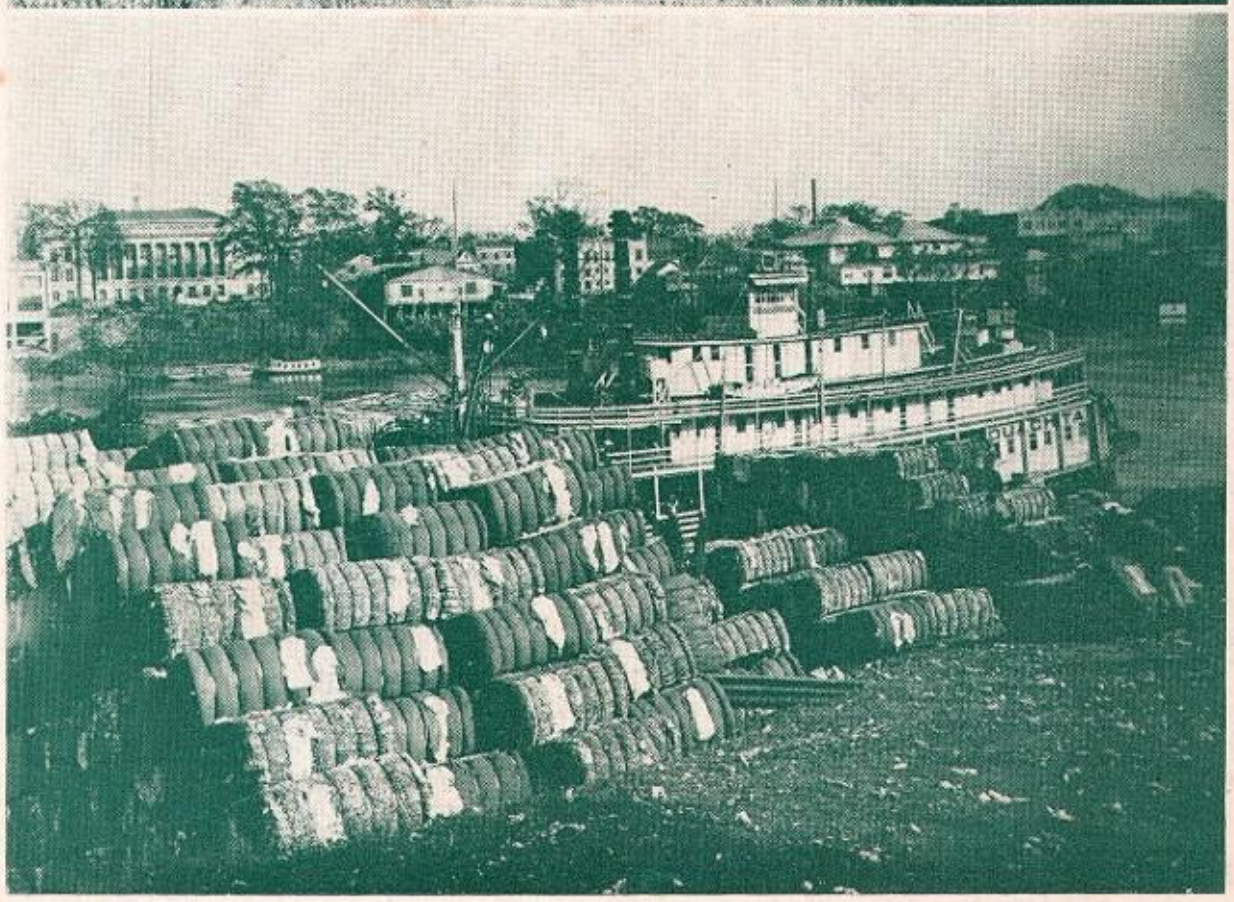
Beginnings

In the days when cotton was king, Old Trenton, a thriving port, situated along the west banks of the Ouachita, teemed with commission merchants. Here steamboats landed, loaded their bales, and unloaded cargoes from New Orleans.



Shipping Cotton on the Ouachita Bell from the West Monroe Landing in By-gone Days

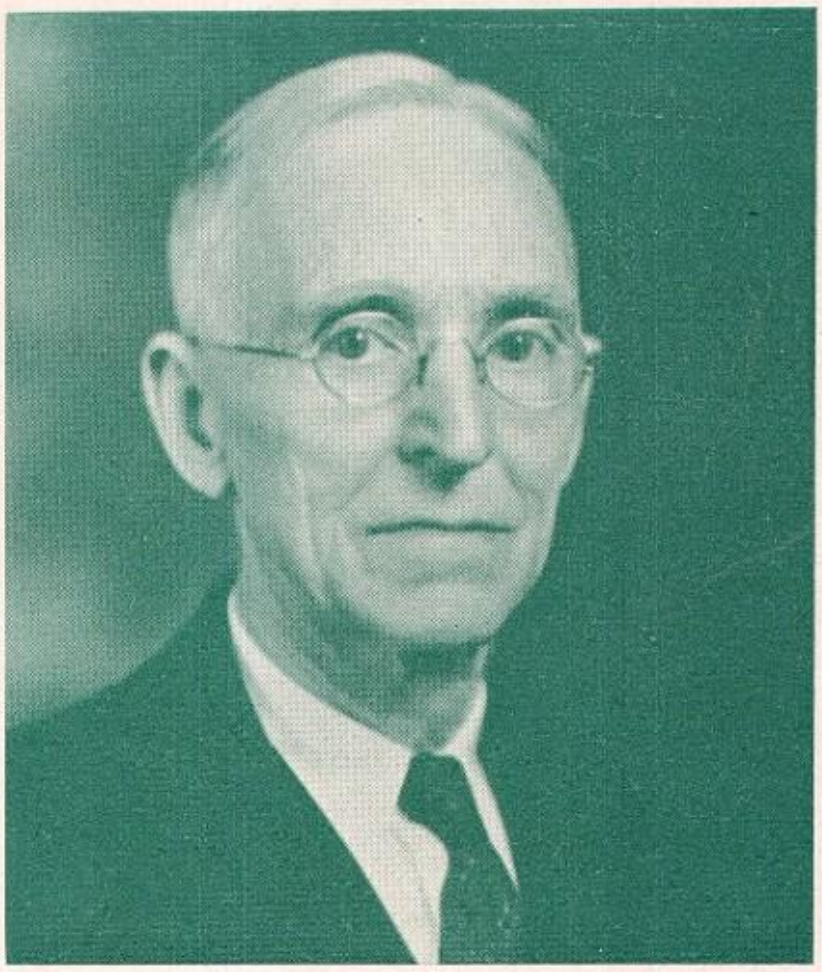
Beginning with a six-room building which housed in 1894 both grammar and high school departments, the present plant for these two departments with combined enrollments of 1938 students and faculties of seventy-seven is as follows:

The grammar school, enlarged from the original 1894 building to its present size; the high school, containing sixty class rooms, four laboratories, cafeteria, auditorium, and 12,000-volume library; the gymnasium furnishing also a band department; the studio serving the vocal music department; the garage and parking lot used for its fleet of thirty-three buses.

Ouachita has ever given distinguished service to its community and has won numerous awards in literary and athletic contests. Its 5743 graduates have been worthy representatives of their Alma Mater.

It is noteworthy that its destiny has been guided since its inception in 1894 by only four principals—H. E. Chambers, 1894-1896; H. H. Byrd, 1896-1899; T. O. Brown, 1899-1908; Jack Hayes, 1908—.

T. O. Brown, who served nine years as Ouachita's Principal and thirty-one as Ouachita Parish Superintendent.



A man whose very life was woven into Ouachita's warp and woof.

GLIMPSES OF

That Hungry Horde!

Interest mounts high during the election for homecoming queen. Each class and the football team has nominees and each class strives to elect one of its own candidates.

The girl receiving the greatest number of votes is declared queen, and the one who is the nearest competitor, maid of honor. The maids are determined by the votes of the other candidates. The mascot is chosen by the team.

From votes at a penny each a goodly sum is realized to be used in purchasing jackets for the team's letter men.

OUACHITA

In voicing her estimate of Ouachita's art department at the conclusion of a visit to Miss Hatton's workshop, Mrs. Florence Zeigler, State Supervisor of Art, said, "It is the best all-round program of instruction that I have found in the state."

DEDICATION

Mindful of its rich traditions, interesting history, and faithful service, of the broad opportunities of development, high standards of excellence, and fine examples of leadership, of the joyful associations, activities, and friendships, the ROARER Staff of 1949 gratefully dedicates its volume to Ouachita Parish High School.

ADMINISTRATION

On the historic court house square, a grant for which was made by Don Juan Filhiol, there have been perhaps five structures that served as seats of justice for Ouachita Parish. The first was a primitive wooden structure, a mixture of hewn logs and framework. During Bank's Red River Campaign of the Civil War gun boats came up the Ouachita, destroyed the railroad connecting Monroe with Vicksburg, and burned the court house of that era. The cornerstone of the present building was laid in 1924.

It is fitting that today Don Juan Filhiol's slender, silver-hilted sword hangs in a case above the judge's bench in the courtroom of the present beautiful edifice in which justice is administered.

MR. JACK HAYES

Completing his forty-first year as principal of Ouachita, Mr. Jack Hayes is rated as one of Louisiana's outstanding school men. Under his able leadership Ouachita has won not only state, but national recognition in literary and athletic fields, as is attested by its numberless certificates-of-honor and trophies and by the records of its alumni in colleges, universities, and the world-at-large.

Beloved and respected by the thousands of students who have attended Ouachita during his principalship, he has ever manifested the keenest concern for their welfare and progress and for Ouachita's "good name" and usefulness. Almost uncanny is his ability for knowing the students and for remembering and recognizing the "boys and girls" of yesteryear.

Mr. Hayes' Birthday

On December 13, senior class officers connived with the office force to have the morning bell held while the senior class assembled in the court to sing "Happy Birthday" and to witness the presentation of their gift, a birthday cake and a handsome tie.

Other witnesses were as many of the students as were able to crowd the windows of the three stories overlooking the court.

BAYOU DESIARD

THE ROARER

For years past the Roarer has been the project of the Senior Class, from whose membership the staff has been chosen. Due to the shift in Louisiana schools from the eleven-grade system to twelve, the class of 1949 is the smallest since 1927. The seniors, in spite of this fact, voted unamiously to sponsor the Roarer without the assistance of other school organizations, and they have striven to reach the standards set by former classes.

THE LION

The Lion is eighteen years old. Its publication is a project of the English Department. Suf-freshmen, freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors make up the staff. Juniors and seniors, only, by competitive work in regular English Classes, win places on its editorial staff.

Mrs. E. B. Stover is adviser for both editorial and business management. Misses Lann and Latham supervise news and make-up for pages one and four; Miss Wall directs features; Miss Ann Smith, typing; Mrs. Hargrove, Up and Down the Halls; and Miss Ware, Cub's Corner,

Business houses are generous in advertising, and circulation runs around 1400.

The Lion has won an International First Place Award in the Quill and Scroll Critical Service every year since 1938, when publication was resumed after a year's suspension.

Justly proud is the Lion of two honors won in December at the High School Press Clinic, Northwestern State College—the very top superior rating and the privilege of naming the president of the Louisiana High School Press Association.. Margaret Ann Tatum, Feature Editor, was elected to fill this position.

MISS VELMA NICHOLS, Director

A graduate of Northwestern State College and Columbia University, Miss Velma Nichols has been director of vocal music at Ouachita since 1941. For several summers she has been associated with the Christiansen Choral School, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, and Lake Forrest, Illinois. At present she is Chairman of vocal division of Louisiana Music Educator's Association. Since she has been director, Ouachita's choir has achieved state, national, and international recognition. This success may be attributed not only to her training and talent but to the endless hours which she spends in attaining the perfection for which her choirs are noted.

High Honors

In addition to participating in the All-State Chorus and singing for the annual convention of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association in Alexandria, April 21, 1949, Ouachita's Choir, during the year 1948-49, has received two signal honors. First of these was its selection, as one of seven schools in America to make recordings for the Junior Red Cross' International School Music Project; the second, its invitation to participate in the Welch Eisteddfod —the first such invitation to be received by an American Choir. Both the Choir and Ensemble will compete with other youth groups at Llangollen, Wales.

HOMEC

One of the most winsome members of the Queen's court was the Lions' Mascot—tiny Derylin Morris, daughter of faculty member Deryl Morris. How she enjoyed her own special parade car—a shiny, decorated little Austin!

The Queen is greeted and assisted from her chariot upon her arrival at Brown Field

OMING

With much fanfare in the presence of thousands of Ouachita Alumni, Mona Newman was crowned homecoming queen before the opening kick-off of the Ouachita-Byrd game. With the field-lights off, she and her court were spot lighted in the center of a crowd formed by the O. P. H. S. band.

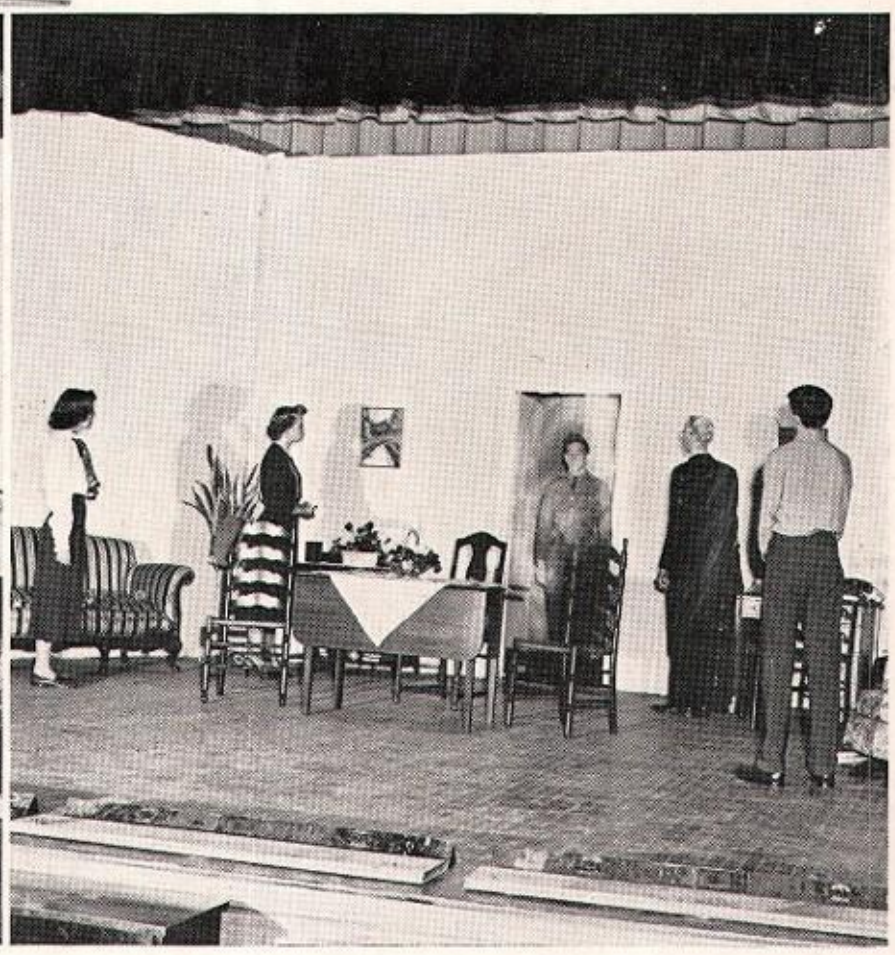
SPEECH

Finishing Touches for "The World of Tomorrow"

Three of the year's general assemblies were Drama Class projects directed by Miss June Shultz. At Thanksgiving the class presented 'The World of Tomorrow"; at Christmas, assisted by the choir, "Christmas Angels"; Easter, "Light In the Windows." Scenes from the first two appear on these pages, the last having been presented after the Roarer went to the Engravers.

Climaxing Miss Shultz's activities will be the directing of the senior play, "January Thaw." The plays of the two preceding classes also directed by her, "Skidding" and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", were most creditable productions.

Family Discussion



A Loved Voice from the Past

DEPARTMENT

In the speech class, students planned and directed one-act plays during study hall periods. These, with their directors, were as follows: Tell the Truth, Dear, by Kitty Dartez; Who's a Coward, Mary Poulas; Domestic Tie-up, Elizabeth Humble.

The members of these classes told stories to grammar school students and wrote radio scripts, the best of which in each class were broadcast over local stations.

TO OUACHITA

Let other folk in East and West,
Their Alma Maters praise,
While we to thee, the fairest best,
Our joyful anthem raise;
Glad Ouachita, we sing to thee,
A joyful band, a glorious throng,
We join in loud, triumphant song,
Proud Ouachita, we sing to thee!

A sower thou who sows her seed,
In every youthful heart,
A gentle guide to lead and plead,
Where roads must cross and part;
Dear Ouachita, hear thou our plea,
O let thy spirit, let thy truth,
Shine through our lives, outlive our youth,
Brave Ouachita, we sing to thee!

n. He can go places
ne will keep on going places
fe—as long as he keeps his
sen. of independence.

That's America's richest resource—the spirit of her people. Ambition, energy, self-reliance are the reasons why individuals — and industries — grow from small beginnings.

Take Louisiana Power & Light Company for example. A few far-sighted men organized the Company, and people of faith and vision risked their savings to make it go. Other folks combined skill and hard labor to bring the benefits of electric living to more and more people. That's the American Way of progress—vision and hard work.

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES

to the class of '49

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

To Miss Sallie Humble, Mr. Jack Hayes, the faculty and students, and to Freddy Page Mr. F. M. Durham, Mr. G. B. Cooley, Mr. Marvin DuBos, and Mr. L. C. Noland, Jr., and to those who bought advertising space the ROARER staff and sponsors wish to express their gratitude for making this volume of the ROARER possible.

Especially are we indebted to the advertisers, for without their financial assistance we would have been unable to have the record of our life at Ouachita. So we urge each ROARER owner to read the advertisements and to patronize those who have so generously donated their bit for our book.

Ouachita's Concert Band has accepted an invitation to participate in the National Mid-West Band Clinic to be held December 15, 16, 17, 1949, Morrison Hotel, Chicago, Illinois.
